

Call for Papers

The Institute of Economics, Academia Sinica (IEAS) is pleased to announce that the 10th International Symposium on Econometric Theory and Applications (SETA 2014) will be held on May 29-30, 2014, in Taipei, Taiwan. Since 2005, SETA has been hosted by Academia Sinica (Taiwan), Xiamen University (China), University of Science and Technology (Hong Kong), Seoul National University (Korea), Kyoto University (Japan), Singapore Management University (Singapore), Monash University (Australia), Shanghai Jiao Tong University (China) and Sungkyunkwan University (Korea). The SETA conference has become a leading event in Asia that brings together researchers in econometrics for an opportunity to present and discuss their research ideas.

The conference program will include a mixture of keynote speeches, invited talks and contributed sessions.

Confirmed Keynote Speakers:

Bruce Hansen (University of Wisconsin Madison)

Han Hong (Stanford University)—ET Lecture

George Tauchen (Duke University)

Confirmed invited speakers:

Xiaohong Chen (Yale University)

Graham Elliott (University of California, San Diego)
